ED-TIMERS TOOK A HAND

Meeting of the Democratic Central Committee at Uniontown Yesterday Afternoon—Enthusiasm of the Attorneys Who Were Present.

Special to Sunday Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 7.—The Democratic County Committee practically decided today that the Republican judicial ticket this afternoon by voting the names of the candidates for the Democratic ticket. Judge Work has about all the nominations, and Judge-to-be Van Swearingen has all worth having. The election of both is only a matter of form. There was some faint opposition in Democratic County Committee, the wisdom of the course was generally fully recognized, and even so who expressed disapproval are easily lined up for the program and among the most enthusiastic supporters of it.

For many years has there been a representative gathering of Democrats. Instead of a few young members of the party, usually characterized as "The Machine," there were present such men as Col. D. Boyd, H. M. Hertzog, A. C. H. Robert Hagan and others who are prominent in the councils of the Democratic party. They took a lively interest in the meeting, and evidence that they will not only support Van Swearingen, but will do everything possible for the other candidates nominated and endorsed.

Following the letter of resignation, given by John S. Christy, Esq., and by Hon. B. F. Sterling, James R. Y. Esq., made an amendment in the vote of thanks to Christy the self sacrifice he had in connection with the canvass so far made and his untiring efforts on behalf of party in general. This with many expressions of approval, but it was not present at the meeting failed to see the bouquet thus led at him by Gray and several members of the committee who on occasion to give him a few complimentary words.

or some time it had been whispered about that Christy was to withdraw in favor of Van Swearingen, but nothing definite was done until a few days ago when it was agreed that course should be pursued in the rest of present and future history. The Democrats knew full well there was no possibility of electing their candidate for judge this year, that it simply meant a deplorable war here they to continue a candidate on the ticket. Moreover, Judge Work's time will expire two years hence and with a Democratic candidate in the field at this time it would be a certainty mean a Republican candidate in 1909 and another Republican on the bench unless the political complexion of the county should vary very materially in that time.

was noticed that all the Democratic attorneys present at the meeting were enthusiastic on the measures and resolutions adopted. On the contrary, there were a few rural politicians who had evidently not made a study of the situation and who seemed opposed to the endorsement of a Republican candidate. They did not offer any objection to the election of Van Swearingen, but when Judge Work was nominated for the year term on the bench of the Orphans' Court, it was coming too strong there were a few murmurs. But majority prevailed, and the Democratic County Committee are certain that they scored a victory.

Major L. H. Frasher announced since he had now completed his mission, he would open headquarters very soon and begin the active work of the campaign. The roll of names was called over and names filled wherever they occurred. The Executive Committee will announce later and will contain a list of the best known members of party in the county.

GROSSCUP'S PLAN

To Reorganize Chicago's Street Railway Service Meets With Reverse in U. S. Circuit Court.

United Press Telegram. CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Judge Grosscup and his plan for reorganizing the Union Traction Company, and proceeding with the immediate rehabilitation of the Star lines in the west and north divisions were reversed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today. This decision affecting $75,000,000 of stocks and bonds, to quote from the words of one of the leading defenders of the plan at yesterday's hearing, "plunges the traction question once more into chaos and confusion."

The decision was handed down at the emergency session of the court, while the lawyers were generally playing golf or motoring. The decision was unanimous. Justice Brewer of the Supreme Court delivered the opinion of the court of appeals, which judges Baker and Seaman assented to. The decision was oral and after concluding it, Justice Brewer explained that the court had shown unusual haste in handing down its decision owing to the emergency of the matter. He said that he hoped that by announcing the decision today, the warring factions might be able to agree upon some other plan for reorganization.

Asked by Patrick Egan, Arrested by B. & O. Officials for Train Wrecking and Acquitted.

Big damages are asked of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad by Patrick Egan, who was arrested on a charge of wrecking No. 10 at Guffey's siding last December, in which accident Engineer Harry G. Sheppard was killed. Egan, through Attorneys Watson & Freeman, has entered suit in the Allegheny county court for $25,000 damages as a consequence of his apprehension by the railroad authorities. Egan, who had been seen near the siding before No. 10 arrived, and then a few minutes later, was arrested some days after the accident, held at West Newton four days and then taken to Greensburg by way of Connellsville.

After being detained in the Westmoreland county jail until February 7, he was tried on five different counts and acquitted. One of the counts against Egan was murder. Captain Charles Horn, formerly located in Connellsville, was active in working up the case against Egan. Egan is a former Baltimore & Ohio employee.

FIRES NEARLY DUE.

Mountain Farmers Watching Fences and Preparing for Them.

Forest fires are nearly due and the farmers in the mountains are already looking to the protection of their fences and barns. The indications of an early autumn make the farmers more apprehensive than usual, and the many that suffered damages by the mountain blazes last year hope to escape them this year. Many of the fires are due to the carelessness of hunters, who forage through the underbrush with lighted cigars and pipes and drop their matches indiscriminately. The indications are that there will be many mountain blazes this year, as the early dropping of the leaves will cause them to be as dry as tinder with the coming of October.

FIENDISH DEED OF RICH BROKER.

Insane by Change of Altitude. Frederick Fish Kills Sleeping Wife.

THEN ATTACKS HIS CHILD.

He is Now Lying at the Point of Death From Injuries Inflicted by His Own Hand—After Shooting Wife He Murders Her in Dreadful Manner.

United Press Telegram. CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Transformed from a gentle father and loving husband into a homicidal maniac by a trip to the high altitudes of Colorado, Frederick M. Fish, 49 years old, a wealthy retired broker, today committed one of the most shocking murders in local history. The victim was his wife, Mary Fish, 45 years old. The presence of mind of Lucille Bassett, a nurse, prevented Fish from killing his two-year-old daughter Mary. He cut his throat and, although still alive, will die. Recently Fish under the advice of his doctor went to Colorado.

The change of altitude caused insanity. Fish manifested melancholy and returned home. A guard remained with the family until last night when Fish's docility unwarmed them. He was left alone. On awakening he procured a shot gun and emptied a shell into his wife's head while she slept. He then smashed her skull and chopped the face from it and opening a knife he had sharpened for the purpose, cut his own throat. After the latter act he seized the gun, reloaded it and, running to the room where Miss Bassett was dressing his infant daughter, pointed the gun at the child. The nurse exclaimed, "My God, Mr. Fish, you would not do that!" He dropped the gun and then tore a hole in his throat until the officers ran in and overpowered him.

POLICE RECORD

Was Made Last Night When No Arrests Were Made for Infractions in Borough.

A record was made in police circles last night that will probably stand for several months. Although it was pay day at Sligo, not a single arrest was made for drunkenness up to one o'clock this morning. The borough police were particularly despatched. Only two infractions were landed in the booby hatch, these being two trespassers said to be heading from Pittsburgh to Washington, D. C. They were taken off the blind baggage of train No. 20.

Early this morning Officer Thomas McDonald and State Constable Lawrence are patrolling the town, although they had completed a tour shortly before midnight without locating any offenders of the law.

Laurence, who has traveled from New York to San Francisco four times says it is the quietest Saturday night he has ever seen. If he has formed that opinion of the town it is a pity he wasn't here during the Centennial or Firemen's Convention. Times were lively enough then.

BIG FLARING POSTERS

In Prohibition Cause Tacked Upon the Telephone Poles of Town.

THE WORDING IS NOT NICE.

Police Are After the Culprits Who Posted Them in Violation of a Borough Ordinance and if Caught They Will be Subject to Fine.

Flaming posters announced the arrival of a representative of the Prohibition party in Connellsville yesterday afternoon, or maybe it was one of the Democrats that has just joined the Water Wagon party. Anyhow, on many of the telephone poles of the town were posted flaring notices bearing the following in ink of the reddest and blackest hue:

The Saloon is Murderer.

Seventeen murders in Fayette county in one year.

Do you vote for or against the saloon?

A second poster of the same size says:

The saloon cannot be legalized without sin. Does your vote count for or against the saloon?

Officer John Lowe, whose special duty it is to hunt up violators of the ordinances did not get a glimpse of the cards upon the telephone poles until late yesterday afternoon, and he started on a hurried search for the person violating a borough ordinance that others have paid fines for disregarding. He was of the opinion that a Prohibitionist could do as much wrong as a Democrat or a Republican and had met with the man who had ruthlessly violated the code he would have "pinned" him quicker than he would a drunken man. The only thing that could be done when he could not find the culprit was to take a good precaution to tear down the posters, and in this he was assisted by a number of citizens.

CHAUNCEY BACK.

New York Senator, Fresh from Paris, Says French Investors Are Scared Off by Stock Slump.

United Press Telegram. NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The recent slump in stocks has lost the United States at least $1,000,000 French money, intended for investment, declared Senator Depew on his arrival from Paris today. Stocks in which Frenchmen have millions fall in the general slump. French investors became alarmed and will send no more money here.

"They appear convinced," said Depew, "that legislation adverse to corporation is responsible. They fear more and hesitate to risk their holdings this side of the water." "Do they hold President Roosevelt responsible?" was asked. "I prefer not to discuss the President in this connection," he answered.

ATTACKS PRESIDENT.

John Brisben Walker Makes Roosevelt Fore and Aft and Calls Him Friend of the Trusts.

United Press Telegram. NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Declaring that President Roosevelt is inviting war with Japan by sending the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific, John Brisben Walker tonight attacked the President. He said Cortelyou and Taft are Roosevelt's choice for President, that he is a friend of the trusts and that 10 days before he branded Harriman as a "misfit," he sent his "love" to the railroad magnate.

The speaker alleged a selfish or political purpose for almost every act of the President, but when he called for a vote on whether the fleet should remain in the Atlantic waters there was an overwhelming negative.

United Press Telegram. NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Foreman Morge put too much dynamite in a pile he wanted to remove from the excavation at Broadway and Forty-sixth street today and the upper tenderloin got a shock such as it has not had since the Seelye dinner. CASE WAS SETTLED.

Fensel-Atz Breach of Promise Case Did Not Come to Trial.

The Fensel-Atz breach of promise suit before the Somerset county court this week was settled yesterday before it came to trial. The plaintiff was Sophia Atz, formerly of Connellsville, who has since married. She was present with her husband and after a conference between the attorneys on both sides the case was compromised.

The Fensel witnesses returned to Connellsville last evening. Several went up from Connellsville earlier in the week.

It is not thought that the terms of settlement are very expensive to Mr. Fensel since about all the former Miss Atz sought was vindication in a legal way rather than a monetary consideration. The attorneys of course came in for their fees.

BOY SUFFERER AT THE HOSPITAL.

August Hawk Eleven Years Old Fell From Lumber Truck and Badly Hurt.

MAY BE CRIPPLE FOR LIFE.

Three Other Patients at the Hospital Last Evening, One of Whom is in a Serious Condition and May Die From His Ailment.

Eleven year old August Hawk of Stewart was an uneasy and restless patient at the Cottage State Hospital last night. He was brought from Stewart yesterday afternoon suffering from severe injuries that may result in his death, or cause him to be a cripple the balance of his life. The boy was employed by a lumber company at that place and fell from one of the big lumber trucks. He received a badly injured leg, a long gash having been made in it, and also a dislocated neck, from which he is suffering terrible pain. He suffered considerable agony before he could be brought to the hospital here, and the ride down on the train was extremely hard upon his nervous system.

Henry Carter of New Haven was taken to the hospital last night with a severely sprained ankle.

George Patoka of Decatur was removed to the hospital last night suffering from gangrene of his leg, the result of an old injury. August Swartz of Connellsville was removed to the hospital last night in a serious condition. His ailment is believed to be obstruction of the bowels, but the physicians are unable to fully determine his trouble until future developments make themselves apparent. His condition, however, is considered serious.

CLIFF HOUSE BURNS.

Escapes Earthquake Only to Be Destroyed a Few Months Later by Devouring Flames.

United Press Telegram. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Cliff House, famous throughout the world, was destroyed by fire this evening. The big hotel had been closed for some time undergoing repairs and was in a state of decay. All the decorations had been completed and the building was ready to receive new furniture. Fire, which was exceedingly fierce, started supposedly from sparks flying from a rubbish pile burning near the hotel. Mechanics working on the building gave the alarm and did their best to extinguish the blaze.

Before the first fire engine arrived the whole lower part of the building was on fire. Fanned by a breeze the flames soon involved the whole structure, so that the small buildings between the hotel and the Sutter baths also caught. The flames were checked within 20 feet of the main pavilion. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

MINERS INDICTED.

Foremen Prosecuted for Permitting Men to Blast Illegally Will Be Tried in Court.

Special to Sunday Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 7.—Among the last returns made by the Grand Jury this afternoon before ending their week's work were true bills against the live mine foremen who have been prosecuted for not observing that section of the act of 1894 in their failure to notify their miners to evacuate the mine before blasting it. It is understood that these are to be the last cases. Mine inspectors Thomas D. Williams, J. G. Kelly and David Young are the prosecutors. The defendant mine foremen are: John K. McIntyre, Scranton; P. J. Mullin, Trenton; Chauncey Beckley, Orient; Patrick Reynolds, Batherton; Thomas McIntyre, Pottsville No. 2; Samuel McKay, Colonial No. 1.

The outcome of these prosecutions is being watched with much interest by coal operators and miners throughout the region. It is understood that violations of this law are common. Many experienced men maintain that undercutting coal is far from the safest method to use in blasting, and it is not unlikely that vigorous efforts will be made to have this section of the act repealed.

BEARS BEWARE.

President, it is Reported, Has Again Consented to Hunt in Louisiana.

United Press Telegram. OYSTER BAY, Sept. 7.—President Roosevelt is invited and may go on another bear hunt this fall in Louisiana after his coming cruise down the Mississippi, postponing his return to Washington from October 7 or 8 to about the 20th.

Where the hunt will be held will depend upon where game is most abundant. From whom the invitation comes has not been announced, but it is understood the parties are the same who arranged the bear hunt at Snodgrass, Miss., several years ago. The President did not shoot a bear and this was really the start of the Teddy bear craze. Cartoonists throughout the country began caricaturing the President with bears of all kinds and toy makers incorporated them into "teddy" stuzzles that have brought them fortune. The President promised his former entertainers to "try it again" some time. When they learned he intended going to Vicksburg they reminded him of the pledge.

ON RETURN VOYAGE.

Mr. and Mrs. McClenathan Expected to Sail September 5 for Philadelphia.

Dr. J. C. McClenathan writing from Killarney, Ireland, states that he and Mrs. McClenathan expected to sail on the White Star Line steamship Teutonic for America September 5. The date of sailing depended very largely upon the health of Mrs. McClenathan who was a patient at a private hospital, South Mall, Cork. Dr. McClenathan stated, however, that Mrs. McClenathan had been improving and that she would be able to stand the voyage. They will stay over in Philadelphia.

SHOULD KILL GERMS EASILY.

Sources of Possible Communication Are Numerous—Carelessness in Caring for the Patients is Often Responsible for Its Rapid Spread in a Community.

Special to Sunday Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 7.—This town is now invaded by an epidemic of typhoid fever, there being over a dozen cases of the disease, according to reports received by the Board of Health. From what sources the infection has arisen has not been definitely determined. It may come from the mountain water supply, which is most generally used, although an analysis of the water just recently made showed no signs of the disease. The Board of Health was making an examination of the water shed on Saturday afternoon. Another possible means of communicating the disease is from the dug wells of towns or from the springs.

Still another, through the milk supply, and, finally, from one or more original cases, the disease may have been spread by flies, mosquitoes, or other insects, or from those who have gone to see the patients. The town has been plagued with suggestions to boil the water.

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Commissioner of Health, has sent a long list of instructions regarding typhoid fever, which followed out may save other fellow beings from being attacked by the disease.

Among the precautions that Commissioner Dixon suggests to the people of Scottdale are the following:

- Place the patient, if possible in a well lighted and well ventilated room.
- Remove from the room all superfluous articles of furniture and draperies.
- Do not permit the use of spittoons or drinking vessels or eating utensils used by the patient, until boiled for at least one hour.
- Do not eat or permit others to eat scraps or remnants of food left by the patient.
- Add all such material at once.
- Add a disinfectant solution to all water that has been used for bathing the patient, and dispose of it in the same manner as the body discharges.
- Do not throw this water on the surface of the ground.
- Thoroughly screen the room to exclude all flies and mosquitoes.
- Destroy all insects in the room.
- Exclude domestic animals.
- Do not kiss the patient.
- Do not encourage visits of friends to the sick room.
- Avoid from their disturbing influence on the patient they may through carelessness contract the disease.
- Boil all water used for domestic purposes.
- Individual milk bottles should not be taken into the premises.
- The householder should set a vessel out to receive the milk, and the person delivering the milk should pour it into such vessel without touching it with his hand or with the vessel from which the milk is delivered.

AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIPS SMASH TWO WORLD RECORDS.

Flanagan Makes New Record for Throwing 56 Pound Hammer and Rose Put Shot 49 Feet.

THE IRISH AMERICANS WON

Easily With a Total of 62 Points While the New York Athletic Club Was Second—Oregon's Wonder's Showing Was Disappointing.

United Press Telegram.
JAMESTOWN, Va., Sept. 7.—Two world's records were smashed at the games for the amateur National championships here today. John Flanagan, of the Irish American A. C., made a new mark in throwing the 56 pound weight, his figure being 35 feet, 3 inches. The other record was made by Ralph Rose, the young western giant, who put the shot 49 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Today's meet was for the senior championship and was easily won by the Irish American Athletic Club of New York with 52 points. The N. Y. A. C. was second with 21 points and the Chicago Athletic Club third with 16 points. Various accidents marked the 16 pound hammer throw. On one of Flanagan's throws the wire handle to his hammer broke and the ball fell at angle. John J. Walsh of the Pastime Club of New York, was standing just behind the circle only fifteen feet away. The hammer struck him on the right leg between the knee and ankle, breaking the bone with a snap that could be heard all over the grandstand. An examination showed Walsh sustained a compound fracture. Physicians state, however, that it will heal in seven weeks.

The feature of the meet was the disappointing showing of Dan J. Kelly of Portland, Oregon, who was easily beaten in the 100 yard dash. The sprinting races were slow and disappointing from a record breaking standpoint. In the five mile run Daly set a new pace after the third mile and won in a grueling finish from his team mates, Collins and Logan.

STILLWELL HERE.

Greensburg's Crack Infielder Talks to Local Ball Bugs.
William Stillwell, the crack second baseman of the Greensburg team, was in town yesterday afternoon talking to local base ball bugs about next season's prospects. He denies having been signed by the Connellsville team although he is not averse to playing here. It is not unlikely that he may wear a Connellsville uniform next year.

In spite of the reports about him during the playing season, when he engaged in a battle encounter with another Greensburg player, Stillwell is a quiet, gentlemanly fellow, thoroughly conversant with the game. He says that May 1 is too early to begin a minor league season and thinks May 15 is soon enough. By opening early many players injure themselves during the period of practice and are not in good physical shape when the season begins, besides many games are postponed owing to bad weather, and the business interests of the clubs suffer.

Just at present Stillwell is a free agent and has made no entangling alliances with any team. He professes to like Connellsville, and the local fans certainly liked Stillwell's playing.

BIG LEAGUE RACES.

Hot Pennant Fight on in the American League—Pittsburgh Good for Second Place.

Like its many predecessors the pennant race in the American League is going at a mad clip, with Philadelphia the favorite. The Athletics haven't the rag clinched, however, and Detroit will have to be reckoned with. Dopesters pick the Athletics because most of their games from now until the end of the season will be played at home, which being abroad. This, however, isn't cutting much for the Tigers, under the able management of Hugh Jennings, the veteran Oriole, are hurrying the sod, and the games this week away from home for the most part were victorious. Detroit made an excellent showing against the World's Champions, and thereby materially reduced the pennant aspirations of Connellsville's crew.
At the same time both Chicago and Cleveland are still within striking distance of the coveted rag. Fielder Jones hasn't given up hope of landing first honors, while Lejoie's stalwarts are favorites in the race, are putting up a dogged fight and making trouble for their antagonists. The fight now rages came out ahead. Philadelphia and Detroit, and tandem in general would like to see popular Hugh Jennings come out ahead. Philadelphia and Chicago have won the flag several times, while it has never yet waved in the garden of either Detroit or Cleveland. The winning team will not have a point to throw away.

The Cubs, of course, have everything sewed up in the National League. Not for many years has the old organization been able to give fandom a real close and exciting pennant race. Chicago took the lead from the start and was never over-come. The real fight is between Pittsburgh and New York for second place, with the Pirates in the running all the time. Smokey City rooters will be much disappointed if their heroes fail to end next to the Cubs.
Philadelphia is making a game fight for third place, and there is a faint hope that they may nose out New York. This is hardly possible, however, for the Giants are going at a great clip to end in second hole.
Those who know say that Patsy Donovan's Brooklyn team will have to be reckoned with as an important factor in the pennant race next year. Just now the erstwhile Trolley Dodgers are playing ball with the best of them, and are always dangerous.

Changes in management are freely predicted over major league circuits. It is almost sure that Ned Hanlon will give up the ghost at Cincinnati, where he has been a dismal failure. The good luck which followed Hanlon at Baltimore and Brooklyn didn't travel West. Lajoie will probably have a new berth next season, for Cleveland isn't satisfied with his work. The Forest City fans look for the kind of a team that old Pat Taboan gave them. Fielder Jones will probably retire from the game this year, so the Chicago Americans will need a new leader. It is also said that Clark Griffith is to give up the New York Yankees. It is safe to say that changes will be numerous, not only in managers but in players.

FOOT BALL NOW.

College Teams Already Preparing for Annual Fall Campaign—Connellsville is On.

The baseball season of 1906 is rapidly waning, and in its place comes football, a truly great American game in spite of the opposition manifested to it in many sources. It is a sport which is little tainted with professionalism. Football is the great college sport, for it is taken up early in the year, demanding particular attention from the students, fresh from their vacations. Baseball, coming at the end of the term, does not attract quite so much interest, and then the public pays more attention to professional baseball games than college teams.
Not having professional football teams, the college elevens are the center of attraction.
Efforts are already on foot for the organization of an inter-High School league through this section and will likely succeed. Last year Connellsville won the championship of the code region with its High School eleven, and will be on the field to defend its title this fall.

Within a few weeks opening games will be played at the various colleges. The Carlisle Indians will open the season at Carlisle with Albright, Washington & Jefferson will play Carnegie Tech on the following Wednesday, it being Washington's opening contest.

NATIONALS' PHENOM.

Young Johnson, But 18 Years Old Never Was in Fast Company Before.

Joe Cantillon's Washington team has a phenom in Young Johnson, the 18-year twirler, who joined the team some weeks ago. Johnson comes out of the West with a most remarkable record of shutout and small hit games. He has never played in organized base ball before.
Many managers would hesitate to take a man with so little experience, but Cantillon evidently figured that the Nationals were doomed to lose anyhow, so Johnson got his trial. While the youngster hasn't developed into a wonderful pitcher yet, and is not settling the league on fire with his work, he is measuring up in good style with the other Washington twirlers, and next year will be better able to hold his own. His worst weakness seems to be in fielding his position. But for a bad heave in the second game at Philadelphia on Labor Day, the Nationals would have taken two games from Connie Mack's pennant seekers.

BIG CONTEST

Is On for Local Championship Among the Two B. & O. Clubs—First Game Tomorrow.

Much interest is being manifested in the coming series of three games between the Clerks and Shops of the B. & O. for the amateur championship of Connellsville. Both teams are strong, ranking head and shoulders over any other amateur team of the neighborhood, and they have arranged a big series for blood.
The first game will be played tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 3:30. Each team has posted $50 to be paid the winner of the series. It will be hard to pick the winner. The Shops are relying upon their crack pitcher, Sheets, to bring them victory, while the Clerks, although having no twirler who can outpitch the Shop man, say they have a better all round team. That remains for the games to decide.

Notes From Minor Leagues.
The Newark, O., team is leading the O. and P. League and looks to be a sure winner.

Pitcher Talo Cromley, the former Indianapolis winner, has been released by Kansas City.

The Memphis team won four of the six games in the last Memphis-Atlanta series.

The Williamsport team has the Tri-State League pennant tucked in a box.

Los Angeles still holds the lead in the Pacific Coast League race, with Oakland and San Francisco following close.

In "Scraper" McGuire the McKeesport club has one of the crackiest pitchers of the P. O. M. League.

Several South Atlantic League managers are after President Charlie Boyer's scalp. Umpire Mace is spoken of as a possible successor to Mr. Boyer.

The first four Texas League teams have been traveling along recently with but thirty points separating them. Austin has been leading, with San Antonio, Houston and Dallas at the last standing.

The Freeport, Ill., team looks like a cinch for the Wisconsin League pennant. It is the only team in the league outside of the State of Wisconsin.

The Lynchburg team of the Virginia League has got out of last place and moved up pretty close to the leaders.

Pitcher Fairbanks of Albany recently shut out the champion Scranton team of the New York State League in both games of a double-header.

OLD MEN ARE BOYS ONCE AGAIN AT JACKSON SCHOOL.

Great Gathering of Pupils Who Attended the School Since 1832 Held All Day Yesterday.

UNION WAS A BIG SUCCESS.

Over One Thousand Persons Gathered for the Event in Blair's Grove—Played Soft Ball One of the Sports of Half a Century Ago—Commissioner Townsend Presides.

Special to Sunday Courier.

FLATWOODS, Sept. 7.—From every corner of Fayette and adjoining counties, as far west as Salt Lake city, and as far east as New York, the pupils of Old Jackson school, a historic seat of learning located 10 miles north of this place yesterday, to hold a reunion and meet and fraternize. There were at least 1000 attendance at the reunion of the pupils of this school which was erected in 1832. The meeting and reunion was held in Christopher Blair's grove a half mile distant from the old school house, and was presided over by County Commissioner M. E. Townsend. The meeting was formally opened by Mr. Townsend reading a list of the pupils who attended the school here were 750 so far as the records show, of which 250 have died.

The martial band then entertained the gathering while many reminiscences were exchanged beneath the old shade trees. The day was ideal and the sun shone through the shade of the great trees with a pleasant warmth, while the skies overhead are rich in their azure blue and all are happy, even the old fellows, to never hope to attend another reunion of the old school now a landmark in the history of the county, and a more place in the memory of many of the old stalwart figures in the band of twenty pieces, of which nearly all members are gray-haired and bent with the burden of years.

After the coronation a pleasant dance was held in the Farnell pavilion. One of the guests at the hotel, Miss Rogers, left this morning to resume her studies in music at Dana's Musical College, Warren, O.

A BAD ONE.

Slot Machine at Baltimore & Ohio Depot Out of Order.

Many a penny has gone to the bad in the weighing slot machine on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad depot platform during the past week. The machine is out of order, but no one discovers the fact until the festive penny is dropped into the slot and the hand does not move.

In a short space of time yesterday afternoon 10 unfortunates dropped their pennies into the slot without results.

CORN ROAST.

Great Time Along Banks of Youghiogheny at Ohioyle Last Night by Merry-makers.

Special to Sunday Courier.

OHIOYLE, Sept. 7.—Of all the social gaieties of the season here, none has been more amusing than the corn roast along the banks of the Youghiogheny river which was held last night. About 30 persons engaged in the amusing pastime of devouring the delicious roasting corn, most of them guests of the Farnell.

The first prize was won by Miss Clara Pritchard of Connelville, and when the judges made their inspection 30 cobs were found in front of her plate. She made such a record that a suspicion arose that someone helped Miss Pritchard out. An alibi was proven, however, and the prize was awarded her with much ceremony.

After the corn roast a pleasant dance was held in the Farnell pavilion. One of the guests at the hotel, Miss Rogers, left this morning to resume her studies in music at Dana's Musical College, Warren, O.

Only One Landed First Money—Races Close and Exciting in Grand Circuit Meet.

United Press Telegram.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 7.—Although close and exciting finishes marked the races at the grand circuit meeting at Charter Oak Park today there were no sensational upsets except that several favorites were upset. The rain of the past week made it necessary to call off all class races and only stake events were run.

SERMON ON SCHOOLS.

Today is the Day Selected by the National Reform Association for Discussion of Education.

Today, the second Sunday in this month, has been suggested by the National Reform Association as a day for general and united prayer for the public schools and, if the pastor so chooses, for sermons on education. This suggestion has been endorsed by the Presbyterian General Assembly, the northern and southern branches of the Alliance of the Reformed churches, the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian church and other ecclesiastical bodies.

BROKE RECORDS.

Americans Walked Away With Trophy at Ottawa Shoot.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Seating all previous records American marksmen today won the Palma trophy. Sergeant Bryant of New York and Major Windsor of Ohio both scored 219 out of 225, beating all individual records. The total scores out of a possible 1,800 were: Americans, 1,712; Canadians, 1,671; Australians, 1,533; Great Britain, 1,380.

GREAT BALL.

Being Played With Winchester by Connelville Boys.

When the season ends at Winchester, two heroes will be sadly missed. They are Chip Francis and Eddie Duggan, Connelville boys who have been the sensation of the Shenandoah Valley this summer. The Winchester team is made up mostly of college boys, and has put it over the best teams of that section repeatedly.

No men on the team have shown up in better style than Duggan and Francis, both at bat and in the field. Chip played with the Connelville West Penn team early in the season, but he does much better with strangers than at home. Both lads are fast and if they care to follow base ball as a profession, can be depended upon landing in much faster company before many seasons pass.

WHO'S CHIEF.

Of the Local Fire Department is the Question Some Local Councilmen Are Asking.

Who's chief of the Fire Department now? Several Councilmen were asked this question yesterday, when James W. Mitchell, who has been acting chief, under a divided Council left with Mrs. Mitchell for a ten days stay at Henry, Md. Some said Anthony King was, others said Arch Holiday was the chief of the department, while others said that President George Porter had charge of the outfit.

Who's who in the fire department seems to be rather uncertain these days. Mitchell is supposed to be the real man, but there are those who doubt it, anyhow as doesn't wear the chief's uniform, although he certainly attends to his duties. Mitchell's beginning to think that it was time that the holdup was settled. The insurance companies also have begun to think it is time the Fire Department was shaped into better condition with the equipment that is on hand.

But then the Borough Dads have their way of thinking about it and there's the condition of affairs. Who's who in the Fire Department is a live question for debate and if there is anyone who can figure it out they're welcome to the task. Meanwhile it is good policy for the citizens to add a little prayer to their nightly appeals that their homes will not catch fire.

CAPTAIN HAYDEN DEAD.

Native of Fayette County Succumbs to Typhoid in Johnston.

Captain C. H. Hayden, a native of Fayette county died yesterday of typhoid fever in the Johnston City Hospital. He had been ill only a few days. Captain Creed H. Hayden was born in Fayette county, Pa., May 13, 1856. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lincoln Hayden and his father was a participant in the Civil war. C. H. Hayden moved with his parents to Uniontown, a short time before he attained his majority and resided there until he went to Johnston, probably 30 years ago. Captain Hayden, while at Uniontown, was united in marriage to Miss Emma Jones of that city.

Mrs. Hayden and the following children survive the deceased: Mrs. Fred Woodward of Oliver, Pa.; Mrs. Chas. Tesh of Redsville, N. C.; J. W. Hayden of Horners street, Seventh ward, and Alice Leota, Stella Decora and Alta Rhea Hayden and Mrs. Lizzie Watson all at the Hayden home, 1153 1/2 Franklin street, Eighth ward. John R. Hayden, a brother of Hopwood and Mrs. John Brown, a sister of Parkersburg, W. Va., also survive.

DESERVE CREDIT.

Do the Scottsdale Fans for Helping Their Team Along.

Scottsdale fans have never gotten credit for what they did to help the ball team. Manager Billy Earle intercepted most of it, when the lads should have rested on other shoulders. Before any effort was made to raise a subscription for the team, Scottsdale fans put up about $500 on the quiet.

In all something like $2,000 local capital was invested in the team during the season. It might be mentioned that the Mill Town team had better players with less brains than any team in the league. Lack of head work and base ball judgment kept the team from winning the pennant.

FOUL PLAY.

Is Feared in Wilkinsburg Township Over the Disappearance of Two Well Known Citizens.

United Press Telegram.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7.—Wilkinsburg township is greatly wrought up over the mysterious disappearance of two well known and prominent members of the community, David, aged 25, and Casper Christian, aged 27, who have been missing since August 27. They are sons of Joseph Christian, a well to do farmer. That they have met with foul play has gradually come to be the opinion.

When last seen the Christian boys had $115, and it is believed they have been murdered for the sake of money. The father is seriously ill from worry over the fate of the boys. He is 68 years old. The father and two boys had lived alone since the mother's death, and since the disappearance of the young men the old man has been almost helpless.

SABBATARIAN PROSECUTIONS ARE NOW DUE ONCE AGAIN.

So far Local Offenders Have Obliging Taken Lots of Work Off Rev. Sharp's Hands.

MEETING TOMORROW EVENING.

Those in Favor of the Sunday Closing Movement Will Gather in Y. M. C.
A. Hall and Offer First Chance to Get a Line on Local Sentiment.

There are no indications that the Sabbatarian movement is to be dropped in Connelville and vicinity today,
and those who sell contraband goods will probably step up before some local Squire tomorrow morning and pay the fine assessed for such an offense. Sunday prosecutions here have all been brought by friends of the offenders.
In this way Rev. J. P. Sharp of the Sabbath Observance Association has been saved considerable trouble. He has not made an information against a single local party, nor have any of his supporters. It was expected last week that he would take some action along this line, but as long as the local merchants are so considerate he may limit his actions in the matter to looking the town over each Sunday and keeping a check upon those who are fined.

Last week saw an increase in the number of stores which sold ice cream, soda water, cigars and tobacco, practically every drug store remaining open. The first week of the crusade saw all closed but two. The local business men who sell on Sunday have expressed a determination to fight the matter to a finish.

Tomorrow night, at the Y. M. C. A. building, a mass meeting has been called. Those interested in the Sabbatarian movement are to gather and discuss the matter thoroughly. It is possible that some line of action will be adopted. To date the Sabbath-less have received but little support locally. The movement met with somewhat of a frost in town, sentiment apparently being overwhelmingly non-committal, pro and con. The spirit seems to be that there are worse evils to be eliminated than the selling of cool, refreshing and harmless drinks on the Sabbath. The meeting tomorrow night will make it possible to see the first time, to gauge local sentiment in the matter.

A comparison is evident between Connelville and Uniontown in this matter. At the county seat two prominent ministers have taken an active part in the movement, and it is from that point that Rev. Sharp receives most of his encouragements, it is said.

SHIPS OF FORTUNE

Said to be Due Sooner or Later at Homes of Several Connelville
People.

Ships of fortune are being anxiously looked forward to by at least two families in Connelville. One of them is the Herd family and the other is the Anderson family. Washington Herd, the representative of the Herd family, seems to have sighted his bark,
and is now making an effort to pilot
it into port. This week he received word that he is one of the heirs of Mrs. Margaret Evans, who was related to his father, C. C. Lee of Pittsburg, an attorney, seems to have charge of settling up the estate, which is a large one, and Mr. Herd went to the city yesterday to have a conference with him. From all accounts there is a pretty fair sized fortune to be distributed among the Herd heirs, and there is a probability that if Wash gets all the money indicated in the preliminary proceeding he may yet be a real Congressman, even if he is a candidate on the Socialist ticket, for money talks.

Policeman Howard Anderson is another man that has his eye upon a fortune. His wealth, as says, lies in a greater part of Chestnut, which was leased by his ancestors for a period of 99 years to the Cambria Steel Company, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and several other corporations and individuals. There are quite a number of heirs to this property, and a prominent attorney is endeavoring to fathom the case out. It is feared, however, that many of the important records were lost in the Johnstown flood which will have bearing on the case.

Burgess A. D. Solson says that he has a fortune in Germany, but the prospects of getting it are very remote and he is not worrying over it.

BOTH CONFIDENT.

Gans Sure of Victory While Britt Supporters Are Wild Over Jimmie's Prospects.

United Press Telegram.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Jimmie Britt and Joe Gans, practically closed their training camp this afternoon and from now on until they meet in the ring at Recreation Park at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, they will do no more hard work. When the fighters notch, 133 pounds ringside, and with a little drilling out tomorrow they will be safely within the limit when they step on the scales.

Gans appears to be in magnificent shape; as good in fact as when he fought his memorable battle with Joe Walcott in this city two years ago.
As strong as a lion, fast as lightning,
the black wonder promises to put up
one of the greatest fights of his career when he meets Britt.

The stomach that bothered him for a number of years, especially when training, seems to have disappeared.
"This fight means much to me," said Gans, "if I lose out I will quit the ring for ever, but if I win I will have to defend the title."

The Britt camp is fairly raging with confidence. Betting on the fight was brisk today, wagers 10 to 6½
with Britt on short end.

FAYORS THAW.

According to Roger O'Mara John D.
Rockefeller Has Given Del-
mas et al. a Raking.

United Press Telegram.
CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—John D.
Rockefeller, Standard Oil king, does not think Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, is as bad as he has been pictured many times. He bases his belief on his recollection of the father of Thaw. Roger O'Mara, the Pittsburg detective, who is active in Thaw's defense, is actively for Rockefeller's opinion being made public. O'Mara had a talk with John D. today and the Thaw case was one of the matters discussed. Rockefeller, O'Mara avers, says that William Thaw, Harry's father, was his close friend.

"Harry would be a free man today if it had not been for the childishness of his lawyers. They apparently forgot a man's life was at stake and that upon their actions and advice Harry Thaw would be sent to the electric chair or to his wife. Why should such a case have been dragged out as this was done? Why should all the time have been wasted except to attract attention to the men who were attempting to increase their reputations?
The defense next time will be emotional insanity. Thaw will be a free man before the first of February, under ordinary circumstances."

DIVIDE MOROCCO.

This is the Proposition Made to Settle Difference Between Rivals to Crown.

United Press Telegram.
PARIS, Sept. 7.—The division of Morocco into two separate independent kingdoms may be the outcome of the contest for supremacy between Sultan Abet Abiz and his brother, Moulay Hafid, the Pretender. It is understood representations have been made to the Powers slighly requesting that M. Hafid be recognized as Sultan of Southern Morocco and Abiz maintained as Sultan of the Northern territory.

By dividing the kingdom European powers could end the struggle between the brothers. It is argued too, that each Sultan would be better able to maintain order in his own territory.
The policing of the country under the Algeiras agreement would accordingly be simplified. The rival Sultans are now reported to be hastening at the head of armies toward Rabat.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—There have been 18 cases of the Bubonic plague in this city since May 27.
This alarming information was made public tonight by health officials. In nine instances death resulted. The other victims are recovering.

Extreme steps are being taken to stamp out the disease. Dr. Rupert Blue of the United States Marine Hos-

and is on his way here.

Everything is being done to kill the germs. It has just been decided to remove all city and county hospital patients to the relief camp at Engleside and the old hospital buildings will be burned.

Attorney Whips Man Who Refers Him
to Hot Place for Money.

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Sept. 7.—
(Special).—There was an exciting time in the Clerk of Court's office yesterday morning. In the settlement of costs in the suit of John Hoy vs. William O'Brien, Henry Beeler, a well known citizen, struck Attorney J. H.
Zimmerman, who defended O'Brien
and won the case.

Zimmerman was formerly a fullback
on the college football team and gave his assailant a trouncing. The trouble grew out of Beeler telling Zimmerman
"the defense could go to hell for the costs," and the attorney replied that he could "go there and get his."

Minnesota Game Warden Seeks His Arrest for Hunting Without a License.

United Press Telegram.
MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—A. J. Rutledge, deputy warden at Bemidji, has been instructed to go to Coleraine and arrest Teddy Roosevelt, Jr., for hunting in Minnesota without a license required by the law of a foreign resident. It is all the result of Captain Greenway of Duluth, formerly in command of a company of "Rough Riders" inviting Teddy, Jr., to take a hunting trip on his private property near Coleraine.

Stories reached the game and fish commission at the capital saying it was accepted and Teddy, Jr., started on the hunting tour. Superintendent Fullerton of Washington called up by long distance telephone and explained matters. The law requires non-resident licenses to be taken out with the commission through its office at the capital.

Not only was no license issued for young Roosevelt, but there was not even an application on hand. The law must be enforced against a President's son as well as any other offender, was the ruling of Mr. Avery, the executive agent, and he at once instructed Deputy Warden Rutledge to hurry to Coleraine and get on the trail of Teddy, Jr.

During the summer the reading fever

In the local High School reading courses are prescribed, and this also creates a demand for literature. Beginning October 1, the Library will and also from 2 to 6 o'clock Sunday afternoons. From May until October

it is not open on Sunday.

HISTORIC ROCKS ARE DESTROYED.

Farmer Horner of Washington County Thinks Relic
Hunters Fakirs.

INDIAN ALTAR BLOWN UP.

Mecoa for Thousands Who Spent Much
Time Trying to Decipher the Strange Hieroglyphics—Sacred Stones for Smoke House.

Angered at the crowds of visitors who overran his farm and the attention he himself personally attracted from these visitors, who came from many parts of the country to see the strange hieroglyphics carved on the Indian altar, Joseph Horner, a farmer
of Washington county, has forever destroyed the once famous "painted rocks," which have been for years one of the most notable relics of the Indians who once inhabited this section.
Recently Horner placed several sticks of dynamite beneath the old altar and blew the huge stone which bore the marks of an Indian's chisel into pieces. With the pieces of once sacred stone he built a smoke house and says he will shoot anyone who attempts to take away any portion of the stone walls. The act of Horner has created immense indignation
among relic hunters and Indian researchers, who counted on the Washington county "painted rocks" as among the most valuable of the relics left by the early Indians.

Formerly, on the top of the great slope along the Monongahela river near the town of Millsboro, stood an immense stone altar, 25 feet square,
and from two to three inches thick.
This stone was elaborately carved, many grotesque configurations being cut into the surface about one inch in depth. There were the crude outlines of men, horses, wolves, snakes, porcupines and strangest of all what appeared to be a kangaroo. This last named animal is complete, the long tail and hind legs and even the young animals in the pouch have been faithfully depicted. The presence of this kangaroo figure in the opinion of antiquarians indicated that the carving was done many hundred years ago, for so far as is known this animal has not been seen in North America since the landing of Europeans here.

The stone altar was discovered
prior to the War of the Revolution,
the Indians of that time having held the stone and its environs as something sacred. Early settlers believing that in later years this stone would prove a curiosity allowed it to remain undisturbed, no effort being made to break it up. At one time a strong fence was erected around it and the immediate vicinity kept free from bushes.

More recently these "painted rocks"
as they came to be called, became famous and were visited by thousands from all parts of the country. Mention of them is made in the geological surveys and persons prominent in tracing the origin of the North American Indian inspected them. It was the general belief that could the hieroglyphics on this stone altar be deciphered much light would be thrown on the early religion, habits and customs, perhaps the origin, of the Indian race.

About 10 years ago Joseph Horner purchased the land upon which the stone altar stood. It was said to be understood at least by the seller that the "painted rocks" should remain undisturbed, although no such contract was entered into in connection with the transfer of the deed. Within the past few years the Horner farm at Millsboro became the Mecca for many sightseers attracted in such things and Horner claims that he had no peace Sunday or week day. He built a strong fence around the rock, erected trespass notices and even ejected
many who came to see the curiosity.
Finally, one Monday morning early, following a Sunday during which he had no peace at all, he went to Millsboro and secured a dozen sticks of dynamite from contractors who were erecting new coke works there, and placing them under the Indian altar blew it up.

With infinite labor he hauled the fragments of stone to his dooryard and immediately began the erection of a smokehouse. That very day several prominent researchers went to Millsboro to see the pictured rocks and discovered Horner's outrageous act.
They berated him indignantly and demanded that he at once give up the fragments that they might be placed in the National Museum or some similar place. Horner only became angered the more and in building the smokehouse he placed the fragments of stone in such a way that any traces of the Indian carving could not be seen from the outside.

Horner's act, when it became known,
aroused general indignation, and efforts are now being made to buy from him his smokehouse. Although offered fancy prices Horner refuses to dispose of the pieces of stone, and unless he changes his mind the indications are that the remains of what was one of the most interesting of Indian relics will constitute a part of a smokehouse
until Joseph Horner dies.

In speaking of the destruction of the rocks Horner says that he wanted se-

Politics and Politicians.

It is rumored that former Governor Richard Yates of Illinois may become a candidate for the seat of United States Senator A. J. Hopkins, whose term will expire in 1909.

Atlanta wants to entertain the national prohibition convention next year, when candidates of the party will be nominated for president and vice president.

Under the new primary law in Missouri no one may sign the petition of more than one candidate for governor.

Governor Warfield of Maryland has announced that he will be a candidate in the Democratic primaries for United States senator. His opponents probably will be Congressman Talbot, ex-Governor Smith, Brown and Jackson and Joshua Miles.

To offset the influence of the recent visit of the state Democratic committee of Oklahoma has arranged for William J. Bryan to take part in the state campaign. According to announcement the Nebraska leader will speak this week at Lawton and Oklahoma City.

Major H. D. McKnight, register of the Government Land Office at Lawton, who has been nominated by the Republicans for Congress in the Fifth district of Oklahoma, is a native of Ohio and a civil war veteran. He went to Oklahoma in 1892 and has ever since been prominent in territory politics.

Several candidates are already in field to succeed Governor Glenn North Carolina, whose term will expire within another year. Up to the leading aspirant appears to be William W. Ritchie, representative in Congress from the Fifth district. Representative Ritchie has served six consecutive terms in Congress and is known as an opponent of the railroads and big corporations. In the entire history of the country it is a surprising fact that only two or three ex-Senators have been elected President, although some of the most distinguished members of the upper house have been disappointed aspirants for the office.

N. O. Turk, nominated by the Republicans of Oklahoma for lieutenant-governor, is a native of Missouri and two years ago was punching cattle in the Cherokee Strip. He was one of the organizers of the republican party in Indian Territory and is prominent in political and fraternal orders.

An interesting political development in Missouri the past year has been the rehabilitation of former Governor David R. Francis, of St. Louis, who after a decade of estrangement from the rank and file of his own party in the state, is now said to be more closely in touch than he has been at any time since the close of his administration as chief executive in January, 1892.

Madison, Monroe and J. Q. Adams found the Cabinet a stepping stone to the Presidency, but this political history has never repeated itself. It is interesting to note in the same connection that Secretary Taft, Secretary Cortelyou and ex-Secretary Shaw will find no precedent for the elevation of Cabinet Officer, other than a Secretary of State, to the highest honor of the people.

General Henry C. Corbetta mentioned for nomination for Congress Ohio district, retired service in the army two years ago on a farm, through the Ohio and Spanish Indian campaigns, a command of the troops during a time.

Meek of Buffalo, the Committee member of New York, is still of the opinion that Roosevelt and Bryan will be the Democratic candidates of their parties next year.

On his way home from the Philippines Secretary of War Taft will be the guest of the Czar at St. Petersburg and of the Kaiser at Berlin. It is also probable that he will meet President Fallieres in Paris.

It is the growing belief in Washington that Victor H. Metcalf, Secretary of the Navy, is soon to retire from the Cabinet. Mr. Metcalf, it is said, aspires to be a Senator from California.

Doubling the Democratic majority in Mississippi and destroying forever any possibility of negro domination is the hope of the Women's Suffrage Association in that State, whose President, Miss Belle Kearney, will present a measure to the next session of the legislature granting the women the right to vote in the Presidential elections.

Maryland may again be represented in the United States Senate by an Arthur P. Gorman. To save himself the humiliation of voting for his father's old political enemy, Governor Warfield, who is a candidate for the Senate, young Gorman a State Senator, will probably be forced into becoming a candidate for the place himself.

In this year's preliminary skirmishing for the Republican nomination, seven statesmen have been more or less prominently mentioned. All except one of whom are identified with Federal official life at the present time. Fairbanks is Vice President, Knox and Foraker are Senators. Taft, Root and Cortelyou are members of the Cabinet, and Shaw only recently retired from the President's official family.

Two announcements that Major J. C. Hemphill editor of the Charleston News and Courier, will be a candidate to succeed A. C. Latimer in the United States Senate, has created no little stir among the politicians of South Carolina. Major Hemphill has never before, either directly or indirectly, been a candidate for any office, and yet by virtue of his control of one of the leading papers of his State, he has been a powerful factor in party affairs for years.

The Executive Committee of the Independence League in New York is mapping out plans for a vigorous campaign. A call has been issued for a State convention of approximately 700 delegates. The basis of representation is one delegate for every thousand votes cast for W. R. Hearst last fall. The call also provides for local conventions and indicates that the Independence League intends to exercise the full functions of a regular political party.

A remarkable number of men who have been occupants of the White House have come from the ranks of those statesmen who at the time of their nomination for the Presidency had been retired from Federal office either by their own volition or by defeat. William Henry Harrison had been out of public life in Washington for 12 years when he was nominated for President. James K. Polk had not been in Congress for five years. Franklin Pierce had ten years before retired from the House. James Buchanan at the time of his nomination had not been in Washington official life for some years, but was Minister to England. Abraham Lincoln was a member of Congress, but had not been in the House for 11 years immediately prior to his election as President. Rutherford B. Hayes, who was elected in 1876, had not been in Congress or any other Federal office since 1867. Grover Cleveland had never been in Congress or in Federal office of any kind. Benjamin Harrison had been defeated for re-election to the Senate a year before his election as President, and William McKinley had been defeated for return to the House of Representatives, but was elected Governor of Ohio. Theodore Roosevelt was never a member of Congress and had held no Federal office higher than that of Assistant Secretary of the Navy until his election as Vice President.

MODERN COLLEGE.

New Buildings Added to Beatty Institution Makes It Rank With the Best Equipped Schools.

BEATTY, Sept. 4.—Sunday afternoon the new college at St. Vincent's was blessed and dedicated with the appropriate ceremonies. The Rt. Rev. Archbishop of St. Vincent officiated. The faculty of the college took part in the ceremonies.

The new building is connected with the main buildings by an archway across the driveway. The building is five stories in height and 160 feet long by 72 feet wide. In the basement are twelve shower baths, recreation halls, trunk rooms and shoe rooms. On the first floor are classrooms, the Natural History Museum, the Natural Philosophy and Chemistry Departments with their laboratories. On the third, fourth and fifth floors are study halls, class rooms, toilet rooms, lavatories and dormitories.

The wood work in the building is all of oak, even the floors. The ceilings are of corrugated iron. The plumbing is of the most modern kind, beautiful in effect and sanitary in every detail. The stairways are fire proof. The entire building, as all the college buildings, is lighted with electricity and heated with steam.

A feature is the Natural History Cabinet. The collections of specimens are rare and complete. No description in a few words, could give an idea of the richness of it, and no idea of the whole place. A look at it will surprise those who have seen similar places and astonish even those who have travelled and seen such.

All the older buildings have been remodeled and rearranged. In olden times an able teacher often set up his chair in the wilderness and students seek him out and sit at his feet. Nowadays students have a little less passion for knowledge. The modern student asks for more than able professors. He looks for a college with up-to-date buildings and for all those things that make for comfort and for physical well being. To satisfy such demands has evidently been the aim of all the late improvements at St. Vincent College.

THE OCTOPUS SQUIRMS.

Catalogue Houses Go to Court Against a Boycott of Retailers.

In many parts of the country retail trade associations are taking up the fight, following a policy of their own, against the catalogue houses which thrive by mail order business. One of these schemes has been for the members of a retail lumbermen's association in Iowa to write to the catalogue houses asking for catalogues, each member agreeing to write two or three letters a week calling for answers. Catalogues ordinarily cost $1 each, and in addition there is the expense of stamps and stationery.

For months this has been going on, says the Chicago Tribune, and the catalogue houses have applied to the district attorney of northern Minnesota to take action against these thousands of individuals for using the mails in furtherance of a conspiracy to injure their business.

Paul E. Ewert, assistant United States district attorney at St. Paul, will direct the prosecution of the retail lumber dealers who are accused of an illegal combination in restraint of competition. The principal charge is that they are using the mails to drive out several concerns which have been selling lumber through the northwest by means of mail orders.

It is alleged that the retail lumber dealers have circulated a "little black book" containing a list of the firms in discredit and instructing them to give no orders in the steps of a plan designed, it is charged, to wreck concerns by causing them great expense with no remuneration in return for answering thousands of letters. These letters ask for advertising matter, catalogues and lists in response to advertisements. The Waterman-Hunter company of Minneapolis. It is charged in the information filed by Attorney Ewert, received 25,000 such letters since last March and was forced into the hands of a receiver.

The Gordon Van Tine company of Davenport, Ia., the pioneer in the mail order mill work business, charges that spies were placed in its office by the retail lumber dealers to find out the amount of business done and to create confusion if possible. The two largest catalogue houses of Chicago now are sending out communications to those they suspect of trifling with them, charging these associations with being in a conspiracy and concluding, "If you are not a member of this conspiracy, we ask you to send us 25 cents for the catalogue and we will in return send you with the catalogue a rebate slip for 50 cents, to be applied on the first purchase of $5 that you make from our house."

Another feature of this so-called conspiracy is for the members of the association that are fighting the catalogue houses to write for samples—in other words, to so annoy the catalogue houses that they do not know whether their mail is from friend or foe.

In a storm at sea the chaplain asked one of the crew if he thought there was any danger. "Why," replied the sailor, "if this continues we shall all be in heaven before tomorrow morning." The chaplain, horrified, ordered out in prayerful fervor, "The Lord forbid!"
